RE: Notice of Rail Energy Transportation Advisory Committee Vacancies Docket No.
EP 670 (Sub-No. 2)

Dear Chairman Fuchs,

I nominate Mr. Scott Campbell, Vice President of Global Supply Chain, LyondellBasell, for the vacant petroleum shipper representative position on the Rail Energy Transportation Advisory Committee (RETAC). Scott's background and experience uniquely qualify him to fill this vacancy, and he would be a valuable addition to RETAC. Specifically, he possesses extensive experience managing supply chain and transportation practices and holds an expert understanding of the complexities of transporting petroleum and petrochemical products by rail. His qualifications are discussed in further detail below.

As Vice President of Global Supply Chain, Scott oversees the operations and commercial aspects of rail transportation and logistics for the LyondellBasell group of companies (collectively, "LYB"). LYB, a leader in the global chemical industry, is the largest oxyfuels producer and second largest producer of polypropylene and propylene oxide globally. Additionally, LYB makes numerous other chemicals from petroleum, renewable, and circular feedstocks. Additionally, LyondellBasell was a longtime operator of one of the largest and oldest refineries in the U.S. In his role, Mr. Campbell manages 90,000 rail shipments per year of energy resources and petroleum products, along with their intermediates and derivatives that are critical for various manufacturing supply chains, such as automotive, renewable energy, packaging, piping, and textiles. As part of these operations, Mr. Campbell works with every Class 1 railroad to ensure LyondellBasell's 20,000 private railcars are moved efficiently from our facilities to our customers across the country.

Scott has spent 30 years as a transportation and supply chain professional at LYB and the predecessor companies. Before his role as Vice President of Global Supply Chain, Mr. Campbell served as Vice President of Supply Chain Americas, Director of Customer Fulfillment Americas, and Rail Logistics Manager. With three decades of experience, Scott has an expert level understanding of railroad operations, the interplay between shippers and carriers, and the Surface Transportation Board's regulation and influence on the rail industry. In fact, Mr. Campbell hosted three STB members at LYB's Morris Complex in 2023 as part of a tour to highlight the company's rail operations and to discuss rail service issues. With Mr. Campbell's experience, he is well positioned to provide RETAC and the Board with insight into long-term and emerging issues that petroleum shippers face.

Through his years of participating in the American Chemistry Council's Distribution Committee, the American Fuel and Petrochemical Manufacturers association, the National Freight Transportation Association, Economic Alliance Port Region Transportation Committee, along with other supply chain associations and advisory committees, including the Customer Advisory Board for the Union Pacific Railroad, Mr. Campbell has a strong history in rail operations and policy. Mr. Campbell, on behalf of LYB, regularly meets with policymakers on Capitol Hill and in the Executive Branch on topics related to rail service and logistics. His engagements have included meeting with the board and overseeing comments from LYB in proceedings that impact LYB and all petroleum and petrochemical shippers.

I know Scott would be a valuable addition to the RETAC and capable of adding value immediately upon his appointment. Additionally, Mr. Campbell and LYB understand that neither RETAC nor the STB compensates participants for any expenses related to their service.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information. Thank you for considering Scott for RETAC.

Sincerely,
