This proposal has bi-partisan opposition from elected officials, county governments, local governments, business owners, land owners, school districts, private citizens, and most importantly in my opinion local emergency response departments.

The use of eminent domain is for public convenience. This is no convenience to the public, but to private parties instead looking to profit at the behest of others properties and belongings.

Save our farmland, GOD is not making any more of it. How do you eat? How do you feed your children. Do you enjoy being able to visit a grocery store and have fresh produce year round even in winter? If you do, then you should thank a farmer next time you see them.
