Legitimate projects disclose their financial sources because they have nothing to hide. Does GLB have something to hide? Why the secrecy? I have every right as a property owner impacted by this project to see who is backing this project. When we purchased the land that we currently live on we had to go through quite an extensive process to purchase and rezone. We had to make known where the money was coming from to buy the land and what our intention were for the land. Please require GLB Transportation to disclose their financial backers and deny their application. This is a prime example of Eminent Domain being abused for private gain.
