GLBT should be required to release their financials to the public. They are proposing a huge, unnecessary project and need to show financial stability and origin of funds. This project would initially provide construction jobs but once completed would only provide unskilled minimum wage jobs while lining the project partner's pockets. The size of the railyard is 5 times larger than any other. This is totally out of the sphere of reality, not only in size but in usefulness since we already have the Intermodel in Elwood, the BNSF yard in Wilmington, and construction starting on the railyard in Crete. Our transportation needs are already covered.
