The railroads as they exist today,came first. The towns came second, as the people made the choice back then to be connected to them. They didn't draw a line on a piece of paper to amuse themselves and tell everybody in their way to get used to it and there is nothing stopping us and its going to happen, and the government is going to give us the power to steal it from you.

STB and other government officials please do the right thing and go at this whole project with a fresh approach. One that involves common sense, respect for property rights, and the major railroad companies approval.
