Dear Surface Transportation Board:

We are writing to recommend that the Motion for Protective Order be denied. Great Lakes Basin Transportation, Inc. (GLBT) is using public records and public laws to forcibly take property from people. Why don't the people, whose property is being taken, have the right to know who is taking it? With transparency being such an issue in America at this time, this appears to be some type of cover-up where unknown stockholders are taking people's property and livelihoods. Why should this occur in the United States of America? Are these unknown individuals influencing judges and public officials who will be deciding the fate of thousands of people's lives? This is not a transaction between willing buyers and sellers. This is a forcible taking of land by unknown individuals. The GLBT already announced that its original intent was to build a toll road, airport and railroad but decided not to initially disclose the toll road and airport. It would appear that the GLBT's intent is to deceive and not tell the truth. Their lack of transparency throughout the process, alone, should be enough to deny the Motion.

Sincerely,
Miranda & Richard Serletic
