Prior approvals of confidentiality agreements for rail projects are not applicable to the Great Lakes Basin Project, due to the fact the Great Lakes Basin project is significantly larger in scale and encompasses 3 states. Great Lakes Basin should not be allowed to keep the investors private simply by saying this was done for minor rail expansion projects so you must do it for us as well. The public also has a right to know who is behind this project, this information will allow proper research of their financial worthiness to accomplish a project of this scale. Without the investor's names the public can not trust the project.
