Great Lakes Basin Transportation has consistently shown a gross disregard for the seriousness of the project they are proposing. The completion of an application is the most basic task of any business. The STB website indicates what information is required and yet GLBT is unable to follow step by step directions. GLBT has demonstrated they do not have the ability to operate a business the size they are proposing. Because GLBT appears to not be taking this process seriously and has repeatedly demonstrated an inability to complete tasks accurately and on time, this project must be denied. The public can not be expected to trust a company that repeatedly takes shortcuts and misses key pieces of information in their paperwork.
