Lee Co of Illinois farm land owner greatest concern is the division of farm land by a rail line cutting through existing farms, the cost to tenants to transport machinery long distances for working the land and transportation of grain to elevators

Secondly, first responders for emergencies: fire, accidents, illness etc

thirdly: transportation of rural mail, school children and travel to reach nearby towns for everyday needs

The destruction of tile lines, drainage systems, wildlife. Disruption of living: sound, hazards caused by derailments, spills of hazardous chemicals, cleanup

What possible benefit could be realized that would out weigh these possible concerns?
