The town of Serena , IL was chosen to be the birthplace of Superman in the 2013 hit movie "Man of Steel." The Hoxsey barn on E2351st Road, off the corner of E2351st and Route 52, is the birthplace of Superman. I know you are laughing, but if Hollywood decided Serena Illinois is the quintessential small town and worthy of being the location of Superman's birth, the Great Lakes Basin Railroad, needs to avoid this area. Serena deserves to keep it's peace and tranquility, as recognized by Hollywood. The GLB trains will make it an ugly noisy train spur town, home to pollution and trains and not Superman. This increase in noise and pollution is not in the public interest and GLB is unable to prove otherwise.
