City of Jersey City, et al's Comment on (1) Riffin's Impermissible "Rebuttal" Filed Feb. 10, 2017 and (2) Rejecting Appeals with Service Issues

I.

City of Jersey City, Pennsylvania Railroad Harsimus Stem
Embankment Preservation Coalition, and Rails to Trails Conservancy ("City et al") note that the Board did not provide for Riffin to file a "rebuttal," that nothing in 49 C.F.R. Part 1115 provides for parties filing appeals to file a "rebuttal," and that 49 C.F.R. 1104.13(c), which governs pleadings generally, forbids replies to replies (which is what a rebuttal" is). The "rebuttal" filed by Riffin on February 10, 2017, is a reply to a reply and must be removed from the record of this proceeding. City et al is prejudiced by Riffin's continued efforts to pad the record or obtain some last word.

Failure to comment further on Riffin's latest extraneous pleading should not be construed as agreement to any arguments or allegations contained therein, except insofar as the document demonstrates the propriety of the sanctions against Mr. Riffin set forth in ALJ Dring's Order of October 26, 2016.

II.

This Board has twice admonished Mr. Riffin to serve his papers in accordance with the Board's rules and in particular 49 C.F.R. 1104.12. Decision in AB 167-1189X served July 24, 2015 at p. 2; Decision in AB 167-1189X served August 25, 2015 at p.2. In both Decisions, the Board reminded Riffin that service by email "is only available if the party being served consents to service by email." Decision, supra, August 25, at p. 1; accord, Decision, supra, July 24, at p. 1.

City et al have never consented to email service. As of 17 February 2017, City et al have not yet received USPS First Class or Express Delivery of Mr. Riffin's interlocutory Appeal filed on 31 January 2017. USPS First Class mail should be delivered from the East Coast (Riffin lives in the Baltimore area) to the West Coast (City et al's counsel is in the Seattle area) within that period. This suggests that Riffin simply failed properly to serve City et al.

Riffin's "Certificate of Service" for his 31 January interlocutory appeal reads as follows:

“CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

“I hereby certify that on or before the 1st Day of February, 2017, a copy of the foregoing James Riffin’s Notice of Appeal, and the Appendix thereto, was served on all of the parties in this proceeding, either via e-mail, or via U.S. Postal Service, postage prepaid.

“James Riffin”

The Certificate is deficient on its terms, because it does not attest either directly or indirectly to lawful service, and in particular does not affirm USPS First Class or Express service upon City et al. Moreover, as noted, City et al have not received any hard copy of the appeal from Riffin.¹ In addition, City et al on February 14 requested Riffin by email to provide some kind of evidence or proof of service by US Mail or equivalent,² and Riffin has failed to respond.

¹ City et al acknowledges receipt of email service of what purports to be Riffin’s 31 January appeal, but Riffin’s email indicated that he was not furnishing the appendices, instead relying on those as filed with an earlier appeal dismissed by this Board. Riffin’s emails provide his more lengthy pleadings in a fashion requiring assembly by the recipient, and that is sometimes confusing. Parties are left to examine the STB website to determine what Riffin intends to file or did file. City et al seek to rely on hard copy from the parties to avoid confusion and to ensure no prejudice. Presumably that is why email service is not sufficient to comply with 49 C.F.R. 1104.12 absent party consent.

²Email was as follows: “ Subject: AB 167-1189X

From: C. Montange ...

To: jimriffin@yahoo.com ...

Date: Tuesday, February 14, 2017 6:12 PM

Do you have any kind of proof or evidence that you served City et al USPS first class or by express delivery with your 31 Jan pleading (interlocutory appeal)?”

Riffin's underlying appeal involves a discovery dispute. In the discovery dispute, Mr. Riffin initially failed timely to respond although he had pledged to do so. When City et al filed a motion to compel, Riffin claimed he had no responsive documents. When City et al filed a second motion with a verified statement indicating Riffin had lied, Riffin responded that his documents were indecipherable. When City et al arranged for a party to refute this at a hearing before ALJ Dring, Riffin finally admitted he had intelligible responsive documents and agreed to produce them. ALJ Dring so ordered. But then Riffin arbitrarily stopped after spending -- by his admission -- only two hours on the matter. Instead, he now contests discovery basically on the ground he should not have to do anything at all. In short, Mr. Riffin has a long history of dilatory, untruthful, and misleading responses; unreliability; and a mindset incompatible with making responsive discovery. In confirmation, ALJ Dring made a demeanor finding against him:

"... Mr. Riffin is not a reliable witness as to the truth of the matter to which he asserts. His deportment suggests evasiveness, deliberate obtuseness, faulty memory, and mental reservation." Decision in AB 167-1189X, served Oct. 26, 2016, p. 2.

Consistent with that history, City et al has still not received service of Riffin's January 31 appeal per section 1104.12 as required by this Board, nor has Riffin yet responded to an inquiry asking for evidence of service. Riffin's "certificate of service" does not show or attest to service in compliance with 1104.12 as to City et al, or for that matter as to any party in this proceeding.

This Board stated in its August 25 Decision, supra, that "[d]ocuments filed in the future without a sufficient certificate of service are subject to being rejected without further Board action." The Riffin appeal filed January 31, 2017, appears to lack a sufficient certificate of service (it utterly fails to identify upon whom Riffin served his pleading, nor does it state the modality employed for each party, nor otherwise demonstrate compliance with section 1104.12 as to any party), and City et al have yet to receive by First Class or Express Service a copy of the January 31 appeal as required for compliance with section 1104.12.³ Should the Board reject ³In addition, City et al notes that to e-file a pleading (such as an appeal), the Board requires a party to certify that all other parties have already been served. See screen shot of "Formal Filing" page attached as Exhibit A (infra p. 8). In particular, for every "Formal Filing," a party must answer the question "[d]id you serve all parties of record on the service list". If the party answers this question "no," the party is immediately directed to "other submissions" which is an STB electronic depository for non-pleadings. In order to file his appeal as a pleading on January 31, 2017, Riffin accordingly had to represent that he had served all parties of record on the service list on 31 January 2017. But his certificate indicates that if there was service, it may have been after that date. City et al therefore question whether the January 31 appeal was based on an electronic misrepresentation by Riffin in response to the quoted "Formal Filing" question whether he had served all parties of record prior to filing.

Riffin's January 31, 2017 appeal per the Board's August 25, 2015 Decision, and in light of Riffin's apparent failure to serve City et al, then any additional appeal by Riffin is simply out of time and must be rejected as well. The Board should consider applying its August 25, 2015 Decision.

Respectfully submitted,

Formal Filing

E-filing is a file attachment process. Prepare your submission in the same manner as you would if filing by paper. All documents in a formal filing must include the docket number(s) applicable to the submission, as well as the name and address of the person responsible for the filing. In addition, formal filings must be submitted as a PDF document and, if available, in the original electronic document format. E-filing may not be used to file:

- initial filings in a proceeding;
- filings requiring a fee (with the exception of recordations, which may be e-filed); or
- large evidentiary filings (over 10MB).

Documents received after 5pm EST will not be processed until the next business day.

If, after reviewing the instructions here, you have questions regarding the e-filing process, please contact legal.support.services@stb.dot.gov.

Did you serve all parties of record on the service list?

Service must be made in accordance with 49 C.F.R. §1104.12, as amended.
