The proposed increase of train traffic in Barrington, Ill. will have very negative effects on the environment and on public safety. The diesel engines pollute the air. Also, some trains will be carrying toxic products.

The safety issue is a large concern. There are eight intersections in this village and road traffic already gets backed up. Emergency vehicles and school buses will take much longer to get to their destinations.

I hope the STB takes a good look at all the ramifications of letting CN buy the EJE and does not "give in" to political pressure.
