I think that's all the information that you need from me. Naturally living in Oak Lawn, I do prefer to have fewer trains holding me back from my various destinations for several reasons, you know, naturally the price of gasoline, I realize I could turn the car off, but I don't especially if I have my air conditioner on. So that would be one factor. Many times if I'm going to take a certain road and I'm going to be stuck by a train then I don't shop in those particular areas. We don't have a problem at the present time, but if it's late at night even myself or my wife, there is a safety factor. Sometimes if you're going in to the city where people would actually hold you up or rob you, whatever term you want to use while your car is stopped or just bother you for donations or possibly wanting to clean your windows so you can give them a you know, quarter or a dollar. So yes, I would be for fewer trains in the area. Thank you very much.
