I have grave concerns regarding the Canadian company trying to buy the Joliet Eastern rail line. Not only will this create dangerous traffic conditions and major traffic issues, but our quality of life will suffer greatly. In the last few weeks, train traffic is already getting worse on the line and making it difficult if not impossible to sleep. I think 7:00 a.m. on a sunday morning is a little early to come flying through blasting the horn. I also think 11:30 p.m. is a little late to be blasting the horn. When are we all supposed to sleep? How?

Thank you for your attention,

Michelle Giuffre
