Dear Mr. Navecky:

I understand the FEIS for the Port Mackenzie rail project is still under review by the STB, but can you tell me generally about the process and amount of time between stages once the FEIS is issued? Is there a requirement in federal law for public comment on the FEIS once it is issued? How long generally does it take to go from FEIS to a ROD? Is there a time period after that which has to pass before the ROD is considered final?

Also, could you please add me to the mailing list for getting a copy of the ROD. You can mail me a copy at my address below. E-mail would also work.

Thanks,

Randall P. Ruaro
