Transcript:

I am commenting on the Canadian National trying to have more trains go through Aurora. I am concerned because if there are emergency trucks, they will have more trouble getting through. It will raise our pollution, it will raise the noise level. It is a safety hazard for children. A lot of those rail tracks go on small streets. They are not handling right now large amounts of trains, as they are not set up to handle that. I am afraid of people going over having more accidents. We are also concerned because I used to live in a city where we had a lot of trains. I lived close to the city. We would not have moved to Aurora if we had knowledge of something that was going to be happening because we don't want to have all that train traffic, both because of the noise and safety issues.
