To whom it may concern,

I generally do not get involved in issues because I am busy making a living and making sure I am a contributing member of my community. I have enjoyed being a resident of the BASIN, but constantly seeing the economy take such wild swings makes me weary and sometimes I really sincerely am rethinking my choice of where to raise my family. Jobs are extremely limited and it is difficult to find a job that isn't affected by the ups and downs in the energy industry. Irregardless of where you live or what type of employment you have, you are deeply affected by each pendulum swing. Watching your neighbors devastated every few years is a tough way to live. Many wonderful people do finally call it quits and leave the area. While rail may not be the answer to all of the problems it is definitely a step in the right direction. Please give us a chance to see what we can accomplish with some new options in Northeastern Utah.

With warm regards,
