The reason I think this is a great idea is because we have enough traffic around this area with trains. They are using our town as a train yard, and if you add more trains to our area there is no way we will be able to get across town. Let other towns take some of the blame and heat from these trains. They make noise all night long and it is ridiculous. Personally I think other towns who think they are too high and mighty to let people have trains through their towns cause they are too good, they need to experience some of what we do.
