I am definitely against selling the railroad tracks. I think that section would be very dangerous to have it closed many times during the day. Also it would disrupt all the businesses that have opened there and in this economy, we need the businesses as much as we can. There is a new strip mall that is there and anyone coming from the south, it is one of the few ways to get there. It's very frustrating to wait, even now, if you get stuck waiting for those trains, you get stuck forever. If I knew that there was going to be multiple trains going through there, I would not even attempt to go that way, plus for people living in that area, ambulances, school buses, I don't know what they are thinking. It's a built up area now, it's not out in the sticks like it used to be and that's my opinion.
