I am against CN using the EJ&E as a "bypass" around the congested rail lines in Chicago. Plainfield continues to grow, 4 high schools, too many to count grammar, middle-schools and with this growth comes traffic. Adding to this already congested town, you want to increase train traffic, some trains as long as 2 miles? This will bring our town to a standstill. Not to mention the impact on emergency vehicles. Your inconvenience in Chicago is better than making Plainfield a hostage to your train traffic.
