Mr. Navecky,

The proposed Great Lakes Basin (GLB) rail project does not meet the needs, wishes or well-being of Wisconsin citizens. There is no visible or viable plan being presented by business, agriculture, tourism, or transportation for employment or education stating need. Vocal citizen advocacy groups are not evidenced.

The disregard for fundamental conservation of irreplaceable farm land is major. The diminished quality of everyday life for rural, village and city life would be ongoing.

Curriculum in the classroom attempted to teach eminent domain emphasized use for public good. This project appears to project a commercial venture for profit at the expense of the citizenry as a whole.

Obviously, there are myriads of valid issues not mentioned in this communication meriting deliberation.

Please keep consideration of the effect on the individual and the environment paramount in decision making.
